

SPIDER'S CLOAK

Take what's useful from a mistake and use it to build on for the next try. Every attempt counts towards mastery of a talent ability or knowledge.

Spiders are a great example of Growth Mindset.

They keep on spinning and adjusting their web until they're successful and catch a fly.

GROWTH MINDSET POWER-UP

- Mistakes are not something to dread, they're a normal part of progress for everyone.
- Next mistake you make a mistake, look at where you've gone wrong ... you'll better know what to avoid in your next attempt.
- Additionally, look at what you've done right and build on it. Each try builds stronger connections between the neurons in your brain, honing your skills and abilities to make your task easier each time through perseverance.
